WATERBURY

Busy Days in France—Lieut. H. Denny Campbell Promoted to Captain.

News of the promotion of Lieut. H. Denny Campbell has come in the following letters recently received by his parents. Waterbury people take just pride in the military success of this young man whom all felt would rapidly rise in the ranks. He has been in the thick of the fight and had many narrow escapes. Always ready to do his part for his country, he again throws himself into the front ranks. Captain Campbell is a graduate of the Waterbury high school and of Norwich university.

Rest Camp, Aug. 28, 1918.

Dear Ones: We are now in a huge rest camp and have been for a week, but it is a rest camp in name only, for we are working, drilling and attending school every minute. I am commanding the company while the captain is on leave. He will probably be gone for two weeks at least. Will probably have a company myself before long, so am glad of the chance to get wised up. The days are long and hard ones, every minute being taken up from 5 a. m. to 7 p. m. and school in the evening. Just barely time enough to eat. Drill the company in the morning, go to machine gun school in the afternoon. Yesterday we had grenade practice all the morning and pistol practice, machine gun firing and drill in the afternoon. I am a member of the special court martial and to-day we tried some 30 cases. Last Saturday we had a division inspection of the 14 machine gun companies in this division and I came out second with my company.

We are having some fine hot weather just now, believe me. We had a beautiful day Sunday, last, for the division field day, when several men were decorated. There was an immense parade in which there was over a brigade. I was selected to represent this battalion with the 23d company. It was a wonderful sight and beautiful movie machines there, so if you happen to see it you will see me just in the rear of a French machine gun company and at the head of my own company. We paraded with machine guns and all were reviewed by General Pershing.

I saw Anthony a few days ago; he was here on the range. You wrote that he was a captain, but he is still a first lieutenant, that is, he has received no official notification, but really we were both promoted to captains nearly a couple of months ago and on the same day, as I understand, but had said nothing about it as I cannot write home very often. I saw Knapp Sunday. He was not wounded, as I thought. He was not wounded, as I thought. He was not wounded, as I thought.

Anthony did not get into the battle of the Marne at all. He fell out on the hike going in and was sent to the hospital. Patterson returned from the hospital from his shell shock and the first day in will never get front again. His nerves are all shot up.

I received 22 letters the other day, the most I have had at any one time since the ones I got after the Christmas rush. Will answer your letters soon, but have only time to scribble what I think of off-hand now. Our time is all taken up and we are so dead tired that it is almost the last thing we think of. It's hit the hay first, and usually by the time we get in the lights are turned off at night.

Harold.

Rest Camp, Sunday, Sept. 1, 1918.

Dear Ones All: Received letters from you all night before last, which were indeed a welcome sight after an all day's hike and maneuver, for I was dead tired and sore. Of course they did me good, as you may well know.

The Huns are surely getting it in the neck now and I hope to be helping to do it soon. It must be rather tough fighting in the open now, for the nights are so cold, but it must be done, I suppose.

As I have written you previously, though you may not have received it, I was made a captain on the 1st of July, but have not received any of the pay yet, as I have not received my orders. My pay over here will be $2,650 a year and I intend to make an allotment to the bank at home after I pay up a few of my small debts over here.

2 p. m.—Have just returned from dinner. We had creamed spuds, roast beef, bread and omelette. This evening we are having a goose for dinner and also have a duck for to-morrow. The two of them cost us 30 francs, or $6. We bought 10 dozen eggs to-day also, which cost five francs a dozen, or $1 per dozen.

This morning I put the whole company through the de-lousure or de-coaterizer. In other words all men went to the river and bathed while their clothes were being steamed in the big de-lousure, which is mounted on a large truck and goes from place to place.

Will enclose some letters and clippings which may possibly interest you. There isn't much news, so I will be bringing this missive to a close.

Harold.

Friday afternoon, Rev. William L. Bolcourt spoke at the state hospital, his address being much enjoyed by the staff, nurses and patients. Mr. Bolcourt was warmly welcomed by many who had learned to look for his visits at the hospital. Vocal solos were nicely rendered by Miss Marjorie Cullen, accompanied by Miss Katharine Towne.

Mrs. Clarissa Minard has gone to New York City to see her nephew, Robert Gray, who is about to enlist in the service. Mrs. Minard is in receipt of a very complimentary letter from President Benton regarding the work of Cushman Gray overseas.

The "Pageant of Fame," given in the opera house for the benefit of the Red Cross, drew a large crowd both afternoon and evening. A seven-piece orchestra added to the enjoyment of the evening. Miss Pauline Moody, who was the pianist for the pageant, did good work and proved her ability. The following is the cast: Spirit of Fame, Barbara Luce; goddess of fame, Beniah Gray; goddess maid, Blanche Cooley; heralds, Belle Randall, Doris Houston, Henrietta Cooley; Greek dancers, Corinna Somerville, Mary Robinson; maid, Barbara Chase; Hypatia, Marion Wilkins; Queen Elizabeth, Miss Colby; Samantha Allen, Mrs. C. O'Clair; Ruth, Mrs. Houston; sister of mercy, Mrs. W. B. Clark; Martha Washington, Mrs. R. Putnam; Topsy, Ollie May; Bird Nydia, Mrs. J. F. Clair; Annaple, Phoebe Goodheart; Joan of Arc, Mabel Wilson; Corinne Vassar, Doris Chesley; Theresa Rossi, Marion Moody; Doris Graves, Elizabeth Howe, Carolyn Hill, Bertha Notkin, Amy Goodheart, Helene O'Brien; Grecian poetess, Mrs. D. Fullerton; Pocahontas, Nellie Swasey; Grace Darling, Bertha Joslin; Mrs. Partington, Mrs. Goodheart; The Baroness, Healey Randall; Mary Queen of Scots, Miss Lowe; Lady Mary Seaton, Lillian Park; Priocilla, Miss Edwards; gypsy queen, Miss Gabree; Queen Isabella, Mrs. J. T. Smith; Bridget O'Flannigan, Mrs. G. Howland; Barbara Freitche, Mrs. Le-Baron; Miriam, Mrs. H. Harvey; Miriam's maid, Alina Cardozo, Doris Mead; Catheryna O'Brien; Columbia, Geraldine Lyon; Columbia's attendants, Cuba, Laura Demeritt; Porto Rico, Evelyn Backus; Hawaii, Esther Stanley; accompanist, Pauline Moody; director, Miss Harriett Harris. Much credit is due Mrs.

The funeral of Mrs. Millard F. Stranahan was held from the chapel of the Congregational church yesterday afternoon. Rev. William L. Bolcourt officiating. Beautiful flowers bore testimony to the love and esteem for the deceased. Two solos were rendered by E. G. Miller. Shall She Be Forgotten? and "Her Task." Mrs. Edwin F. Palmer accompanied. The bearers were Dr. G. S. Buel, E. G. Miller, Edwin F. Palmer and J. G. Somerville. Burial was in the village cemetery. Mrs. Stranahan's going has taken another of the older people resident here for many years, one of the mothers who made her home a place for all the young people. Many remember her kindness to them and to her children who were devoted indeed. In the Congregational church here much good work was given. Queen Esther chapter, No. 7, and Emerald Rebekah lodge, No. 33, attended the services in a body.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan C. Jones were in Northfield yesterday attending the funeral of Mr. Jones' brother, Guy Jones, who died at Northfield Falls on Sunday.

Mr. Jones was born in South Royalton 39 years ago last July, the son of Charles and Martha (Sabeus) Jones. A few years ago he married Mrs. Julia Avery, by whom he is survived. Also by his brother here, Dan C. Jones, who has recently taken the overseas training in Y. M. C. A. work. He owned two farms in Northfield, upon one of which he lived but also worked in the granite sheds there. Mr. Jones died of typhoid pneumonia, following influenza. He was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, members of that order being bearers. Burial was in the cemetery at Northfield Center.

Mark Town of squadron 5, naval air station, Pensacola, Fla., is home having a 10 days' furlough. Mr. Town is a first-class machinist in aviation work and is doing a good deal of flying.

Mrs. Roy Demeritt, who is ill at the sanatorium in Randolph, is much improved and her young son, Beverly, is fine. Roy Demeritt, who has been in charge of the Randolph factory, is remaining there in charge of shipping corn here rather than to get more cars there. He will be at home in two or three days.

Mrs. Perkins, who came home from Randolph quite ill, is much better. Miss Greta Perkins of the Stowe high school is quite sick at home.

Mrs. Harriett Moody, who has been ill with tonsillitis, is better.

In the town hall at Duxbury Saturday evening an able address was given by A. G. Eaton of South Royalton, assistant state forester. Mr. Eaton spoke on the "Weeding of the Farmers' Wood Lot," and gave much good advice on forestry and farming. In closing, he used one of Dr. Drummond's farm poems and was obliged to respond several times to the call for more. Music was furnished by Miss Annie Dorothy Palmer, Stanley Buzzell and Mrs. Palmer. While in town Mr. Eaton was the guest of Edwin F. Palmer. Mr. Eaton is probably the largest grower of small fruits in the state, was also at the Huntley-Palmer farms Saturday.

How You Can Remove Every Trace of Hair

(Toilet Talks)

A stiff paste made with some powdered delatone and water and spread on a hairy surface about two minutes will, when removed, take every trace of hair with it. The skin should then be washed to free it from the remaining delatone. No harm can result from this treatment, but be sure it is delatone you get, and you will not be disappointed.—Adv.

HARDWICK

Miss Esther Angell and Edward Gunson Married.

A very quiet, but pretty home wedding, occurred last Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Angell on Spring street, when their daughter, Esther, was united in marriage to Edward Gunson of Fair Haven, a civil engineer, and a graduate of the University of Vermont in 1916. Miss Angell is a graduate of the same institution in the class of 1918. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Wattle, pastor of the Congregational church, in the presence of several friends and the immediate relatives of the families. Mr. French, principal of the Hyde Park academy, was best man. The ring service was used. The bride was gown in white satin and wore a bridal veil and carried roses. Congratulations are extended to the young couple.

I. H. Carr has disposed of his entire stock of groceries and general furnishings in his store on Wolcott street in the Utley block and will devote his entire time to his farming interests at Jackson Bridge district.

It is understood that W. L. Pope will close the laundry for the winter this week Saturday. This is to be regretted, but under existing conditions Mr. Pope could do no other way.

The local branch is receiving communications daily from county headquarters asking why has not this branch collected the money due in the Red Cross war fund drive of a few months ago. As stated last week the amount to be collected was $300.50, and of this amount only $124 has been turned in. The balance has got to be in the county headquarters' hands by Oct. 1. Walk up and settle and let it not be said that Hardwick was a slacker in this drive, which was responded to so liberally, there being $1200 collected in cash at the time the drive was on.

Preparations are being made for a great deal of activity the coming fighting fourth Liberty loan campaign. Tuesday afternoon the local Liberty loan committee met at the Memorial building and districts were mapped out to be visited by certain men and the boy scouts, and in the evening the ladies met at the same place and perfected their plans for canvassing the town. It is hoped that a great deal may be accomplished in one intense week toward reaching the Hardwick quota of $80,000, which seems large, but the real quota was set at $108,000, but through the untiring efforts of the business men in presenting claims that on account of depopulation of the place, some consideration should be given this town, and it was reduced to the figures mentioned above. It looks like a big job but Hardwick has met the issue before and can do it again.

Another interesting relic has been added to the museum collection at the Memorial building. This time it is in the shape of an old pamphlet dated 1824, relating to "A Narrative of the Sufferings of Seth Habel and Family in His journey to a Settlement in the Town of Wolcott in the State of Vermont." This will be published in the Gazette in the near future and contains many harrowing and terrible experiences of this family.

E. D. Griswold and wife have returned from Concord, N. H., where Mr. Griswold has been employed for some time. G. G. Estell has gone to Still River, Mass., to visit his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Beadle.

Miss Vesta Knapp has finished work in the office at Clark's garage and taken a position in the Granite Trust Co. Jack Kennedy will take Miss Knapp's place in the garage office.

Ray and Bert Smith were visitors in Burlington Tuesday. Both young men tried to enlist in the navy, but were too late, as the quota desired was filled.

P. A. Wakefield has been quite ill the past week with the Spanish influenza.

Thomas Thompson, Jr., Arthur Brown and Herbert Marmon of Bristol, Conn., have been visiting in this vicinity this week.

The board appointed to help the registrants fill out their questionnaires wish the men involved to understand that they will be at the Memorial building nearly every evening at 7 o'clock, but this does not mean they will hang around until 9 before any registrant shows up and then have to spend an hour or two on one man.
